Bibliography

HEALTHY ENVIRONMENTS & PROGRAMS

Issues related to the creation of healthy environments and supportive programs in long term care and other residential settings is a strategic priority for the CCSMH. The purpose of this bibliography is to provide resources to individuals and organizations that will contribute to a positive mental health milieu. This may include but is not limited to:

- Sharing best practice guidelines
- Creating a "home model" guideline
- Promote "Choices" e.g. aging in place

General

Healthy Aging, A good investment; Exemplary Programs for Seniors Centres and other Facilities, National Council on the Aging

Enhancing Care Through the Guidelines for Care, Alzheimer Society of Canada Canadian Association of Community Care, 2001

Guiding Principles for Residential Care, Fraser Health Authority, December 2002

Calkins, M.P. (2001). The physical and social environment of the person with Alzheimer's disease, Aging & Mental Health, 5(S1), S74-S78

.../2

Morgan, D.G. & Stewart, N.J. (1999). The physical environment of special care units: Needs of residents with dementia from the perspective of staff and family caregivers. Qualitative Health Research, 9 (1), 105-118

Therapeutic Environment Screening Scale (TESS)

Models of Care

Guidelines for Elderly Mental Health Care Planning for Best Practices for Health Authorities, Ministry of Health, Government of British Columbia

Long Term Care and Facility Design Manual, Ontario Ministry of Health and Long Term Care

Social Environment

Moore, K.D. (1999). Dissonance in the dining room: A study of social interaction in a special care unit, Qualitative Health Research, 9 (1), 133-155

Morgan, D.G. & Stewart, N.J. (1997). The importance of the social environment in dementia care, Western Journal of Nursing Research, 19 (6), 740-761 for more information, visit www.cccsmh.ca